

Open research publishing for societies and associations.

More impact, more reach, more open: A home for all your research outputs.

F1000Research offer innovative open access publishing solutions. We provide societies with a rapid, transparent, and open way for their members' research to be cited, used and re-used.

Partner with F1000Research to:

- Create a customized and branded 'hub' for your researchers, supporting open research practices.
- Publish a wide range of peer reviewed research articles including software tools, data notes, opinion articles and more.
- Make posters, slides and documents discoverable, citable and shareable.
- Support a better future for research, with a publishing model that has transparency, openness and reproducibility at its heart.

F1000Research support your mission. We can help you open up research for further engagement, recognize the full range of research undertaken by your members, ensure the visibility of non-traditional research types and offer appropriate credit to all those involved in doing this work.

Good for Researchers. Good for Research. Good for Society.

About F1000Research

F1000Research is a fully open access publishing platform, offering rapid publication of articles and other research outputs. All articles benefit from transparent post-publication peer review, and editorial guidance on making source data openly available.

F1000Research advocates for transparency and reproducibility in research, and our unique publishing model supports this at every stage. Articles can be published within a month, with post-publication peer review creating an open dialogue between authors and their research community.

Showcase the full range of your members' research.

Create a Gateway on F1000Research for your Society.

A Gateway is personalized, customizable publishing hub to collate and highlight all your research in one searchable and shareable domain. Gateways allow you to publish and cite not only peer reviewed research but also posters, slides and documentation, providing a holistic view of all your research outputs.

Be an open research trailblazer.

Set up your own open research Platform powered by F1000Research.

This completely bespoke option is tailored to your brand, and to your members' publishing requirements. Openly and transparently publish a wide range of research with your own unique citation. This is a fully managed service with F1000Research providing both the platform hosting and the editorial services, so that you can focus on doing what you do best: supporting your members.
